We are currently accepting articles for our Eleventh Circuit Issue!

The University of Miami Law Review's Eleventh Circuit Issue is the only publication in the country devoted to the Eleventh Circuit. Authors who publish in this issue have the unique opportunity to be featured alongside a distinguished Eleventh Circuit judge or scholar who writes the foreword.

We are now seeking articles related to current state and/or federal issues in the Eleventh Circuit to be published in next year's issue.

Article Submission Deadline: November 11, 2024.

Please note submission of an article does not guarantee an offer for publication.
